Embracing Change & Advancing Choice

As the 2025–26 school year quickly approaches, choice schools across Wisconsin are preparing to welcome students into classrooms that reflect their values, communities, and students' individual learning needs. At School Choice Wisconsin, we remain committed to advocating for a system that honors educational freedom, empowers families to choose the school that best fits their children, and supports educators in creating environments where every student can thrive.

This season also brings transformation within our organization. With the recent departure of our president, we've launched the search for a new leader who shares our passion for family empowerment and educational freedom. We are excited about what lies ahead and remain focused on helping schools navigate the unique challenges and opportunities of the choice program.

In the meantime, our work to help prepare schools for the upcoming year is well underway. We are updating our communications systems to ensure all school leaders receive timely, relevant updates (if your school has had any administrative changes over the summer, please let us know so we can keep our contact list current). Our monthly webinars are continuing to support new administrators, and we have been monitoring legislative developments, including the Governor's budget proposal and its impact on voucher funding.

We are also busy preparing for more new school onboardings and back-to-school events. Look ahead for details about our popular backpack giveaways in partnership with Hispanics for School Choice and more.

In this season of growth and change, we remain steadfast in our mission and energized by the work ahead: to expand access, reduce barriers, and ensure that every Wisconsin family has the freedom to choose the educational path that's right for them.
